Senator Logan Enthusiastically Received at Chicago

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

Alleged Significance of Senator Sherman's Visit to the Pacific Coast—A Californian Thinks he is after the Blaine Influence

C[illegible] M[illegible] [Special.] [illegible] Logan [illegible] yesterday [illegible] united by [illegible] for [illegible]. There was no [illegible] at his own [illegible] the [illegible] when [illegible] long [illegible] that the result [illegible] of importance to the party much [illegible] represent [illegible] any personal triumph. No [illegible] at the state capital fails to recognize the [illegible] the effort [illegible] in the presidential contest of 1888. General Julius White says the election of General Logan means more than the election of a senator [illegible] republican. He declared that the people of the United States recognized [illegible] one of the foremost leaders to-day.

At [illegible] o'clock an escort of 200 veterans proceeded to the Alton depot where carriages were in waiting [illegible] and the reception committee [illegible] hotel. There was a repeated [illegible] and the hotel where a great crowd were in waiting [illegible] and there was a steady [illegible] until 10 o'clock. During the progress of the reception a salute of 100 guns was fired [illegible] front. With the booming of cannon considerable crowds began to gather in the streets and flags and banners were hung from the windows of some of the business houses. Everybody on the streets having leisure gravitated in the direction of the Grand Pacific hotel, where the rotunda and halls were crowded [illegible] enthusiastic republicans [illegible] adherents of Logan could hardly have wished a more flattering reception for him.

THE MAN WHO CAPTURED JOHN BROWN.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—[Special.]—A man arrived in Washington this morning and registered at the National as Israel Greene of Mitchell, Dakota. Mr. Greene is a democrat and wants the land office at Mitchell. His people all indorse him for what he wants; nevertheless he is a much disappointed man and it is strong if he does not return to Dakota in a few weeks disappointed. He is the man who took [illegible] prisoner [illegible] and it was Greene who gave the old hero a sabre wound on the head that nearly killed him. Greene was lieutenant of marines under Colonel Robert E. Lee and was ordered to take a detachment and charge the engine house in which Brown and his men had taken refuge. Old Brown was kneeling on one knee behind the engine. He had dropped his gun and had a spear in his hand. Greene came up behind him and dealt him a blow on the head. It would have killed him had the point of the sword not caught on a rope over his [illegible]. Mr. Greene [illegible]. He is now a farmer at Mitchell and if [illegible] himself [illegible] him he may be able to [illegible] Washington with [illegible].

[illegible] CLAIM AGAINST COLONEL [illegible].

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—[Special.]—The new secretary of the [illegible] suit against the [illegible] Colonel [illegible] for the [illegible] United States by this distinguished warrior and statesman when United States marshal for Texas. It will be remembered that the claims of the government [illegible] for a number of years [illegible] colossal possessions of Colonel [illegible] were not accessible to reach by any means in the power of the government. When he came to congress the first comptroller of the currency undertook to apply his salary to liquidation of the claims as far as it would go. The colonel made a gallant fight. He scorned to deny the debt, but he insisted that no person could keep his salary as a representative [illegible] Texas. The first controller succumbed to the arguments hurled at him and the [illegible] son of the Lone Star state drew his salary with characteristic [illegible] while the charge against him [illegible] put back in the [illegible] column.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—Commissioner Coleman being anxious to obtain all the facts possible pertaining to the dairy industry of the country and particularly respecting the manufacture of articles designed for pure butter, butterine and like compounds, has prepared a circular to manufacturers of dairy product. It is his wish to place before congress and the country a complete statement of the factory product of cheese and butter as well as their adulterated imitations, and he suggests the propriety of making monthly records of the work of each manufacturer in order that returns may be obtained more readily for such time as may be deemed best to aggregate the result. October he says being the month when cheese making has declined, it may be decided to have all the returns of butter and cheese production terminate then, allowing six months for the dairy season. This would better determine the comparative production of one state with another as in the summer months the conditions of food will be more uniform, cows consuming alike natural grasses.

THE EXTRADITION OF MAXWELL.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—[Special.]—Marshal McDonald, assistant circuit attorney of St. Louis, appeared at the state department yesterday and presented application for the extradition of Maxwell the murderer of Preller from New Zealand. There is quite a contest over the appointment of the second agent to receive the warrant. The police board of St. Louis recommended the appointment of Frank R. O'Neil of the Post-Dispatch as additional agent to Detective Tracy. Mr. O'Neil is recommended for appointment by the governor of Missouri but the circuit attorney objects to more than one agent and claims that his office was ignored by the governor and the police board had no right to interfere. Both Mr. O'Neil and MacDonald argued the case before Clerk Brown, who presented the matter to Secretary Bayard.

A NEW DEMOCRATIC SCHEME.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—[Special.]—A strongly organized movement started by western democrats will soon be made to induce the president to appoint a new civil service commissioner. Claim[illegible] politicians say that if one democratic and two republican commissioners could properly look after the interests of democratic applicants under the civil service rules, then one republican and two democratic commissioners can be trusted to look after the interests of republican applicants. Under the law the commissioners have no fixed term and the president is expressly authorized to remove any of them, their successors of course to be confirmed by the senate.

COMING TO STUDY THE CASCADE RANGE.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—Captain Clarence E. Dutton of the ordnance department of the army, who has been engaged for ten years in the study of the geology of the great plateau region of the west, started last week for California under instructions from Major Powell, director of the geological survey, to make a study of geological phenomena presented by the Cascade mountains.

THE REBELLIOUS APACHES.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A dispatch was received at the war department to-day saying that the Apaches who escaped from San Carlos reservation have gone in the direction of Fort Tularosa and Ojo Caliente in New Mexico. Three companies of cavalry from Fort Bayard and two companies from Fort Wingate are in pursuit.

CLEARING HOUSE RETURNS.

BOSTON, May [illegible].—Leading clearing houses of the United States report that total clearances for the week ending May [illegible] were $[illegible], [illegible] increase of [illegible] per cent. as compared with the corresponding week last year.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S VISIT.

A San Franciscan Thinks he Wants the Republican Nomination in 1888.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—[Special.]—The Call publishes an interview with an ex-senator on the political significance of Senator Sherman's trip to this coast, in which the following occurs: If Senator Sherman has fully decided to make an effort to secure the nomination for the next national republican convention he certainly would not announce it at this time. If he did make it known so prematurely he would defeat himself. Senator Sherman is a shrewd politician and no one knows better than he that about three years before the next convention would expire long before that time. His friends say that he has come here for his health, but I think his trip has a still broader significance, which is kept in the background. He is here to interest the support which the coast has given to Blaine for so many years. He could not accomplish this by announcing the object of his visit in advance. He could only acquire it by winning the confidence of the people by visiting them and making them feel that he represents their views on the most important questions that affect them.

SHERMAN'S INTENTIONS.

It is believed no doubt by most [illegible] for the next republican nomination that Mr. Blaine is not out of the field. This visit of Senator Sherman however looks very much as though he thought Blaine was out of the race. Two questions which vitally affect this coast are the Chinese and silver questions. While Sherman will no doubt keep the former in the background he will bring forward the latter and make it most conspicuous. Before returning he intends to express his views at length on the silver question. Why Senator Sherman should volunteer, on his pleasure trip to take up the subject merely for the information of the public I do not understand. It seems to me more probable that he has chosen the subject, of which he is the greatest master, to explain to the people [illegible] on that question [illegible] into prominence [illegible] and win the support of [illegible] Wall street and the debtors of the [illegible] to make the silver [illegible] in value to the gold dollar. [illegible] their debt. His views [illegible] a magnificent [illegible] the admiration of [illegible] most. If he convinces them [illegible] to win them to [illegible] great strength for the [illegible] nomination. It will [illegible] win the [illegible] and that will be everything. In addition to his promised statement of his views on the silver question he is daily meeting the most influential [illegible] the country. [illegible] will find that where he had one admirer before he came he will have [illegible]. This is enough to [illegible] Sherman's article visiting [illegible]. I think he is desirous of having the [illegible] in the next national struggle.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN.

DENVER, May [illegible].—Late last night as the regular Denver and Rio Grande train from Salt Lake was approaching the limits a terrific explosion took place directly under the engine, extinguishing the lights and breaking the windows of the locomotive and forward coaches and violently wrenching loose [illegible]. Dynamite or giant powder had evidently been placed under the stringers of the tracks. Passengers to the number of 100 were severely shaken up and badly frightened. Search failed to discover the perpetrators. Officials of the railroad assert [illegible] in all probability the work of strikers.

CALIFORNIA.

CHANGE OF NAME.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—At a meeting of the grand council of the Independent Order of Chosen Friends last night it was decided to change the title of the organization to United Friends of the Pacific Coast.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—North Pacific coast: Cloudy weather with rainy winds. Middle Pacific: Fair. South Pacific: Fair.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

ELLENSBURG, W. T.

As Mayor [illegible] put it, Ellensburg is the infant [illegible] city. It is located in the famous Kittitas valley, one of the most extensive as well as one of the richest and most productive of the many famous valleys in the great northwest, while the mountains abound in rich mines which are now being worked with considerable success.

The discontinuance of the work on the Cascade branch of the N. P. R. R. two weeks ago had a tendency to dampen the spirits of the Ellensburg people for the time being, as they had naturally anticipated quite a boom as the road advanced in that direction. However they are ready when it [illegible] and undoubtedly have more advantages in the way of location and resources than any point on the line between Tacoma and Pasco [illegible]. Aside from the rich and extensive agricultural country there [illegible] promise rich developments. Ellensburg is the county seat of Kittitas county and will present her claims as the most available place for the capital when the time comes to vote on that question. At the last session of the commissioners court the old public square was vacated and offered for sale, one half of it being purchased immediately by Mr. Glascock of Sprague, who intends erecting a row of fine brick buildings thereon.

Mr. Thomas Johnson, one of the fathers of the town, who has nursed it from its infancy and ever taken a pride in its growth and development, is now putting up a fine two-story block [illegible] feet, the upper part to be used as a hotel and the lower part for store rooms.

Mr. [illegible] is now and has for years been the most enterprising citizen of the great valley, having put up the first building in Ellensburg. He now has in process of construction some six or seven houses, all of which will be completed in a short time and ready for their occupants. He owns a number of the best buildings in the town and [illegible] acres of land adjoining it, which will be improved as occasion demands. A few such men as Mr. [illegible] would make towns and cities. The moss don't grow on their backs nor the grass under their feet.

Mr. Walter A. Bull is another of the go-ahead kind of men who have helped to give this garden [illegible] in the mountains its wide spread reputation. He is engaged in general merchandising in town and owns a 1200-acre ranch eight miles in the country, where he is largely engaged in stock raising. Last winter he fed 1,500 tons of hay to 800 head of cattle, bringing them out in fine condition. This year he is cultivating fifty acres of beets to feed to stock the coming winter. He has shown that stock raising is a practical and profitable industry which any one with sufficient nerve and energy can engage in successfully.

The population of Ellensburg at present is about 800. The Yakima river furnishes unlimited water power for manufacturing purposes, the industries of this kind at present consisting of five flouring mills and three saw mills.

The hotels are not numerous but the traveling public will find most excellent accommodations at the Forrest house. Frank Forrest as a caterer can't be beaten and the rooms are pleasant and comfortable.

The completion of the railroad will only be a matter of time and it is the prediction of every one acquainted with this part of the country that when it is done Ellensburg will rapidly grow into importance. B.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION.

Philadelphia Press: Bayard still holds as the prize bungler of the cabinet, but Vilas is evidently going to give him a tight race.

Cleveland Leader: The south was made "solid" for Cleveland through fraud and violence and it is solid with him now. Mr. Blaine is not a prophet, but he knew the democratic party and the source of its power.

Indianapolis Times: Mr. Cleveland has surrendered, and will give to the unterrified what our favorite son asked for—30,000 offices. The mugwumps think it is the saltiest pie they ever ate, but they like it.

Inter Ocean: The long and stubbornly contested senatorial struggle has ended at last, and no one doubts that the result is in accordance with the judgment and wishes of an overwhelming majority of the republicans of Illinois and the country at large.

New York Herald: The clear policy of the president, if he does not desire to lose his own state, is to strengthen the party that elected him and not the temporary allies who, after receiving all his favors, are very likely to go back to their old republican fellowship.

Memphis Avalanche (Dem.): We would [illegible] print [illegible] letter [illegible] Postmaster General Vilas, thinking a republican's name had been imposed on it, and not believing Mr. Vilas would have written such a letter. It is doubtless genuine. It will be found on another page. It is very stupid.

Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.): These fourth-class postmasters, one and all, have been the most offensive of offensive partisans, and they all ought to go. We don't see that the postmaster-general needs any advice as to what ones to remove. Let him remove any of them who may come convenient and he will not go amiss.

Inter Ocean: Some of the mugwump and democratic organs in New York are straining themselves ruinously in attempting to explain and bolster up the postmaster general's circular letter. The Inter Ocean repeats that the democratic party would respect itself more and would be more respected if it gave honest reasons for removals. [illegible]

Harrisburg Journal: As a rule outsiders have no right to interfere with the affairs of a state nor to meddle with its legislative business. The duty of the Illinois legislature is now so palpable, however, and the outcome of its action so important, not only to that but to other states, that people not residents of Illinois may be excused for urging prompt and decisive action on this point.

New York Tribune: If Mr. Cleveland must find some way of turning out many thousand faithful officials, solely because they are republicans, and if he must put in as many incompetent creatures merely because they are democrats who have been doing the dirty work of the party, then he may as well do it openly and invite his congressmen and party committees to concoct the pretexts and pick out the workers for him. Only in that case he will have to stop pretending to be a reformer of any sort.

CHEHALIS ITEMS

CHEHALIS, May 21.

At a joint meeting held in Centralia yesterday by citizens of Centralia and Chehalis, it was decided to celebrate the coming Fourth of July at the former place. Appropriate committees were appointed and arrangements are making for a grand time. A race track has been arranged and there will be some trials of speed on that day.

Mr. Pearson, the man who killed his child last winter and then attempted to kill himself and wife by cutting their throats with a razor, was discharged from the asylum not long since and returned to his home near this place, and it was supposed he was cured, but insanity has returned, and yesterday he was brought to town to be returned to the asylum.

The Congo Rebellion Story Proves a Canard.

BRITISH POLITICS BADLY MIXED

Desperate Rioting in the Streets of Paris—British Steamer Seized by the French—Several Hundred Rebels Killed in the Soudan

NEW YORK, May 24.—[Special.]—Sun's London cable special: The hitch in parleying with Russia is more serious than is generally believed, and the evasive answers of the ministers in parliament have increased the alarm. The publishing of details of the Bosphore Egyptien incident shows that France is savagely hostile and resolved to force England's difficulties and also to the bitter end. Indeed some believe that the relations between France and England have become strained and that the stoppage of the guards at Alexandria was directed against France more than Russia. Gladstone's retirement is widely discussed. Nobody is certain, as he does not know himself. His intentions change daily like his health. Present prospects are that the cabinet will hold together and Gladstone will not retire till the general elections have been won by a united party under the matchless glamour of Gladstone's name.

The Globe last evening had exclusive publication of a sensational story, credited to the Paris Societe de Geographie, of a great Mohammedan uprising in Central Africa. The story did great credit to the wonderful imaginative powers of its author, and outlined the establishment of a new empire which was to extend straight across the continent from the Indian to the Atlantic ocean and was all to be under the survey of [illegible] and the sultan of Zanzibar. Incidentally it described the burning of a depot belonging to the International African association and predicted the collapse of the new free state of Congo. At the head office of the international association in Brussels to-day an official declared there was not a shadow of foundation for the story. They receive and send dispatches every day from and to their agents on the Congo, and all the messages are transmitted via Zanzibar. If there had been any such revolt as is described in the Globe they naturally would have heard of it before now, but to make sure, they had asked for information all along the line of the reported uprising, and been assured that the story was untrue. They believed that the circulation of the story was due to intrigues of French rivals of the association, and that it was invented in the hope of preventing the success of the association's new loan of 100,000,000 marks. King Leopold is much annoyed by the canard and has given orders to spare neither trouble nor expense to trace it.

AN ACUTE POLITICAL CRISIS.

NEW YORK, May 24.—[Special.]—The London correspondent of the Evening Post says: Almost without warning England is landed in the midst of an acute political crisis of which nobody foresees the end and no one can hardly exaggerate the possible consequences. For the following facts I can vouch, although every man here has his own opinion. Chamberlain, president of the board of trade, and Sir Charles Dilke, president of the local government board, said positively in the cabinet that they would resign rather than support any further measure of coercion for Ireland. After a long discussion they were induced by the other ministers to agree to the renewal in a very mild form of the crimes act. In their opinion a measure of local self-government should precede any land purchase scheme, and Gladstone's statement on Tuesday that the government would introduce a land bill later in the session was in advance of any decision of the cabinet to that effect. I am credibly informed that Sir Charles Dilke was in the house [illegible] at the time Gladstone's statement was made.

NOTES FROM WINNIPEG AND PRINCE ALBERT.

WINNIPEG, May 24.—The remains of Corporal Code and Privates Fraser and [illegible] of the Ninetieth rifles were buried here to-day with military honors under the auspices of the Montreal artillery. The cortege was very large and imposing, all public bodies and several societies taking part. The bodies were buried in St. John's cemetery.

The telegraph wire between Clarke's Crossing and Prince Albert, which was cut at the commencement of the rebellion, was repaired yesterday. A dispatch from Prince Albert says that Boulton's mounted troops left that point Friday by trail for Battleford. Middleton left for the same place by the steamer Northwest with the Midland battery with a Gatling. More troops will follow when the other steamers get up to Prince Albert. The Winnipeg field battery will do garrison duty at Prince Albert along with the mounted police.

Congratulatory telegrams have been received by Middleton from the governor general and Lord Wolseley.

Several members of the Ninetieth rifles and Winnipeg field battery have been granted leave of absence and left for home.

PRINCE ALBERT, N. W. T., May 24.—The Ninetieth rifles have left for Battleford by the steamers Baroness and Alberta. The grenadiers had to go by trail with scouts and transport teams owing to the non-arrival of the steamer Marquis.

FAVORABLE CROP REPORTS.

TORONTO, May 24.—The report of the Ontario bureau of industries for May states that reports received show that wheat was in almost as good a condition in April as on the 1st of November last year. Apparently the greatest damage has been done by hard frosts and northwest winds in April and low temperature in the first ten days of May, but the plants remain fairly rooted in all soils and the opinion is generally expressed that with favorable weather speedy recovery will be made.

FEARFUL RIOT IN PARIS.

PARIS, May 24.—To-day being the anniversary of the fall of the commune the communists of Paris attempted to hold a demonstration at the tombs of their comrades in Pere la Chaise cemetery. Police interfered and prevented a display of seditious emblems. A serious conflict ensued in which several men were wounded. The police finally dispersed the rioters, thirty of whom were arrested.

Later the police ordered the communists to surrender their red flag. The latter refused and fighting ensued. The police drew their swords and drove the rabble against a heap of stones. The rioters used stones and one of the policemen was knocked senseless, and another's jaw was broken. The republican guards with fixed bayonets charged the mob, wounding several in the foremost rank, one fatally. Several reporters were arrested but were afterward released. One anarchist received five saber cuts and others were fearfully gashed. The police were unusually severe, showing no mercy after [illegible] the scene resembled an attack [illegible]. Shops in the vicinity of the riot were hurriedly closed and the utmost excitement prevailed until a late hour. Knots of communists gathered at various places to-night vowing vengeance on the police and the government.

Midnight.—It is said at a late hour to-night that [illegible] were killed and eighty wounded during the rioting this afternoon.

MARK LANE REVIEW.

LONDON, May 24.—Mark Lane Express: Cold weather brings the season dangerously late for crops which are already so backward. The quantity of cold rain which has fallen is unfavorable for the wheat crop, the color of which is getting worse daily. Should the weather change it is still doubtful whether the wheat would regain what it has lost during the month. Foreign wheat is slightly more active. Trade was confined to one sale. There were six arrivals. Eight cargoes were withdrawn and six remained, including three of California and one of Oregon.

BERLIN NOTES.

BERLIN, May 2[illegible].—The government has begun a vigorous opposition to the socialist movement. Meetings have been prohibited and socialist papers suppressed. One man who intended to preside over a meeting has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Windthorst, clerical leader, has gone to confer with the duke of Cumberland in relation to the course to be pursued in view of the Prussian government's proposal to exclude the latter from the Brunswick succession.

The rector of the university has issued an order forbidding reunions of students in consequence of the many duels and quarrels which have resulted lately from these meetings.

LOSSES OF SHEEP.

A Cold Rain Storm Kills many Hundreds of Shorn Sheep in Eastern Oregon.

Heppner Gazette, 21st inst.

This has all in all been about the most exceptional year for weather that has ever been experienced in this most exceptional climate of Eastern Oregon. For the last five years each winter has been according to the memories of the oldest settlers either the shortest or the longest, the mildest, or with one exception, the hardest, and the summers have been the dryest or the wettest, the warmest or the coldest, or the frostiest on record. This year is exceptional in every way. Last winter the weather was warm and spring like till December and then the hardest snow storm came, and the lily white element laid deeper than it had since '62. In two months the spring-time came, gentle Annie, the larks sang and the buttercups bloomed, while the eastern dispatches of THE OREGONIAN told of deep snows and bitter cold. Grass here was good and stock got fat. The country averaged an increase of upward of 100 per cent. of lambs, and save for several frosty nights that nipped the premature fruit buds summertide had made actual settlement in the country in March. In the past week shearing was getting to be about over, and the sheep shorn was just dipped to cure the scab, so prevalent this year on account of various causes, when a cold rain alternating with sleet, came to sprout the parched bunchgrass, save the yellowing and drouth suffering grain and kill the sheep so lately divested of their heavy fleeces and made sick and blind and dizzy by the harsh scab-curing treatment of confining them in a dipping vat, and ducking them again and again under a flood of medicine heated to 125 degrees and made of lime, sulphur and tobacco, and other nasty but parasite-destroying stuff. Had the pleasant weather continued after the dipping, the sheep would have sunned themselves and got along all right. But the wet element that saved the farmers' grain told heavily against the sheepmen's shivering stock. The result is that a great many sheep have died throughout the Heppner hills.

J. Fisher and Charles Stultz, who own 500 of the sheep in John Q. Wilson's wether band, finished dipping Tuesday the 12th inst. at John Elder's dipping vat. Next morning they found thirty dead in the corral and about 100 very sick and staggering. At 11 o'clock that day they were through dipping. When the band were turned out of the corral to graze the storm broke, the cold rain came down in torrents and 300 more died from the chilling exposure. All that afternoon and the next morning the men who had been dipping the band worked hard lifting the sheep out of the washout in the gulch into which they would blindly fall and drown in the swollen stream. Friday morning the band was counted and out of over 2000 all but 900 had perished. Fisher & Stultz lost five valuable bucks.

During the storm Thursday the ewe band leased to W. C. Lacey were grazing up Stingle canyon on the Sand hollow road. The sheep drifted into gullies and perished on the range. Over 300 of the band were lost. As many of the dead ewes left young orphan lambs the loss will be still greater. Mr. Lacey lost over 200 head during the storm last winter, which with this late misfortune, will set him back several seasons.

Nelse Jones' herder was moving camp Wednesday and laid out with the sheep. During the night the storm caused the sheep to leave the laying ground. While it was storming Thursday the herder could not succeed in mustering the scattered sheep, which when gathered Friday, showed a loss of over 150 head. Though many of the lost sheep are lying dead about the range it is supposed that some are still living. Mr. Jones also lost about 100 head of the band that is camped over about John Elder's shearing corral.

Jim Fuller who had just sheared and dipped, lost 150 head.

E. J. Keeney of Alkali lost over 100 head at Allen's Toll Rock.

William Ferrier, whose sheep were sheltered in the brush on Thorn creek lost about sixty head.

Harry Jones lost about 60, Frank Gilliam about 100. Messrs. Clay, Mormon and Carrothers of Lower Rock creek each lost about 60, these latter supposed to be from poison. Kirk & Sons, of Black Horse lost about 100.

S. R. Reeves had moved his sheep up to the mountains near the Theron Fell pole patch. The rain of the hills was snow up in that elevated neighborhood and Mr. Reeves had the hardest kind of work to get his sheep out to lower ground, having to pack many of them on his back. As it was he came through with a loss of about thirty five.

Henry Gay and Jim Adkins had started for the mountains with their sheep and while they were in the rough hills between McKinney creek and Reed canyon the storm came on and drenched them through and through. They had to lay out all night and next day took their sheep back to the Rhea creek range to "wait until winter was over" before going to the mountains. About 100 head of Mr. Gay's sheep chilled to death, and forty of Mr. Adkins.

AGAINST SUNDAY THEATRICALS.

The following resolutions, which were adopted by a vote of the Ministerial association last Monday, were read in every church in Portland and East Portland last night:

WHEREAS, The attention of this association has been called to the subject of Sunday theatricals and the increased desecration of the Lord's day consequent thereon, to the great scandal of our city, in defiance of its laws and in utter contempt of the religious convictions of a large portion of our citizens, and

WHEREAS, The increased number of prisoners brought to trial on Mondays before our city magistrates is in itself a forcible commentary on Sabbath desecration and shows it to be the foster-mother of dissipation, licentiousness and general lawlessness, therefore

Resolved (1) That this association deplores this great evil and especially deprecates and condemns the inducements to Sabbath desecration afforded by the New Market theater, Casino and Tivoli proprietors, who open these places of amusement and dissipation on Sunday evenings.

Resolved (2) That we beseech all friends of piety and virtue to discountenance in every possible manner these infringements on the sanctity of the Lord's day.

Resolved (3) That we respectfully and urgently appeal to the proprietors and managers of these places of public resort, and to their employees, who equally with ourselves are interested in the maintenance of the Lord's day, not to ignore its claims and benefit, nor further to do violence to the sacred convictions of our best citizens of almost all shades of religious belief.

Resolved (4) That we appeal to the press and the public schools as the legitimate and powerful agencies of virtue and morality to utter their call for the condemnation of Sunday theatricals by all lawful and prudent means, because they open a broad and fascinating avenue to moral decadence to the susceptible minds of the youth of our land.

Resolved (5) That we heartily endorse the appeal recently issued by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, for the "Suppression of Sabbath Desecration, by Sunday concerts, theaters, baseball clubs, etc., etc."

Resolved (6), That the above appeal presented to this association by a committee from the local W. C. T. U. of this city was listened to with deep interest and we assure the ladies of our unabated Christian sympathy in all their laudable efforts to promote the sanctity of the Lord's day, and to prosecute the work of temperance, education and reform.

THE MODERN GIRL'S FORCE.

Brown—"The modern girl is a useless creature."

Robinson—"Think so?"

B.—"Certainly. Good for nothing but dawdling over the piano or languishing before the looking-glass. She has no force to her."

R.—"Don't know about that. There's Smith's girl now——"

B.—"Well?"

R.—"Well, Roe and Doe, fine young men, both fell in love with her. She encouraged both, and from being fast friends they became bitter enemies. Then while they were running around chasing each other with clubs, on her account she quietly goes off and marries the old at the roller-rink who taught her skating, thus making three men miserable."

B.—"Three?"

R.—"Yes, the two who failed to get her and the one who got her. No force to her! You're mistaken about the modern girl, my friend."

Suffering Womanhood.

Too much effort cannot be made to bring to the attention of suffering womanhood the great value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the diseases of women, and perhaps nothing is more effectual than the testimony of those who have been cured by it. Such an one is the wife of General Barringer of Winston, N. C., and we quote from the general's letter as follows: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham: Please allow me to add my testimony to the most excellent medicinal qualities of your Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Barringer was treated for several years for what the physicians called Leucorrhea and Prolapsus Uteri combined. I sent her to Richmond, Va., where she remained for six months under the treatment of an eminent physician, without any permanent benefit. She was induced to try your medicine and after a reasonable time commenced to improve and is now able to attend to her business and considers herself fully restored." [illegible] Barringer is the proprietor of the American Hotel, Winston, N. C., and is widely known.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, MAY 25 1885

OUR ILL-TREATED NEIGHBORS.

Reports from Victoria indicate a strong feeling there and thoughout the province against the Dominion government. Dissatisfaction seems general, and we are told that if a vote were taken to-morrow on the question of separation and return to the old independent status, it would be carried by an overwhelming popular voice. A score or more of small issues and a hundred petty irritations have stirred up a rebellious spirit, but the real and serious causes of discord are the railroad and Chinese questions

The Dominion government has in the main performed its strict pledges respecting the Canadian Pacific. There has been, it is true, unreasonable delays, but the line is now nearly completed, and within the current year there will be unbroken rail connection between the two oceans and on British soil. But the Dominion government has not in this great enterprise, and in many smaller matters as well, maintained the good spirit, which was very reasonably to be expected, from its fair promises so lovingly expressed as an inducement to alliance It has treated British Columbia with surliness, and is constantly reminding her that she was a "bad bargain." The mismanagement of that part of the Canadian Pacific now in operation is turning what ought to be a public benefit into a public curse. The worst methods of monopoly management are employed to make the road yield money. It is idle to say that the fault is with a contractor. The fault lies back of that—it was in making such a contract. There can be no excuse for an arrangement, even though it be temporary, which permits the abuses of which the people of British Columbia justly complain

The action of the Dominion government on the Chinese question is an almost equally aggravating cause of dissatisfaction. The people of British Columbia know, or at least they think they know, what is good for themselves and for their country. By an almost unanimous vote, their representatives in the local parliament passed a bill prohibiting the importation of Chinese laborers. It was a wise and moderate measure in the spirit of the United States law on the same subject and modeled after it in many of its details. Before it could become a law this bill had to be approved by the higher authority at Ottawa, and it was submitted with a full explanation of the circumstances which prompted it and a full statement of the public feeling in British Columbia concerning it. This was deemed not sufficient evidence and a commission was sent out to investigate the matter At San Francisco, on the way out, the commissioners fell under the blandishments of men who find profit in the Chinese labor traffic and to these interested parties they gave greater heed than to the unanimous sentiment of British Columbia. They returned to Ottawa and reported that the Chinese invasion was a blessing to the province and that the opposition to it came only from an irresponsible and shiftless class—in short, from a discontented rabble Whereupon the Ottawa parliament, in its superior wisdom, voted the bill down. Is it surprising that a community which in long isolation and by many years of prosperous self-government has learned independence, is galled by this offensive superiority? Tame submission, on the contrary, is not to be expected.

There are thoughtless people, both in the United States and in British Columbia, who profess to think that the outcome of these discontents will be the annexation of the province to this country Nothing is less probable. In British Columbia, with its fine open harbors and its fields of coal, Britain has the finest naval station on the North Pacific coast This alone, dismissing all other conditions (and there are more than could be named in all the columns of this newspaper), will cause her to hold British Columbia as long as she holds any interest in the Pacific ocean She will never give her up unless, perhaps, in the remote future, she should be induced or compelled to part with all her American possessions.

COAST DEFENSES.

One of the few well-defended entrances on the United States coast line is that of the Columbia river. The splendid elevation of Cape Hancock, overlooking and almost overhanging the ship channel through which vessels have to pass slowly, affords the best possible vantage ground for defensive operations. The height is finely fortified and is furnished with effective guns. Indeed, some of the best guns in the United States are at Forts Canby and Stevens The editor of the Astorian, who has visited these forts, says

There is one fifteen-inch monster at Ft. Canby that was fired some years ago The blast broke all the windows of the lighthouse and after the government had paid $300 for glass, etc. orders were issued that no more practice of that gun be allowed unless circumstances appear to justify it Its mate at Ft Stevens was given 100 pounds of powder one day and a shot sent flying into Scarborough heads. The concussion caused a wholesale shivering of glass and the orders regarding Ft Canby were duplicated as far as Ft Stevens was concerned Regular practice is however kept up and the proficiency of the corps is well illustrated by some shots fired last Saturday A ten-inch smooth bore has recently been rifled, making it an eight inch gun taking a hundred pound shot with a powder charge of thirty five pounds The gun since being rifled has been sighted by plumb line and chalk marks but the t[illegible] last week placed the new improved sights on the [illegible] The sights instead of being on the upper [illegible] of the gun are on the sides and are still give [illegible] practical results The [illegible] sight taken on the steam[illegible] the [illegible] public, 3,00 yards away Three shots were fired and the three balls struck in almost exactly the same place there being not over two inches difference in the point of impact

Puget sound is not nearly so well guarded The location of Fort Townsend at a point where it could be of no use whatever, was a stupid mistake. To all practical purposes, indeed, there is no defense at all on Puget sound. A hostile ship could steam up in front of Seattle, Tacoma or Olympia without the slightest opposition and burn them all without putting herself in the slightest hazard The width of the entrance to Admiralty inlet will make the defense of these cities always difficult and uncertain but the removal of Fort Townsend to a point near Cape Flattery would give some protection

BRIEFLY AND WELL PUT

In his address at the British banquet in this city Saturday night, Judge George H Williams hit the nail squarely on the head when he referred to the pending controversy between England and Russia He was not, he said, sufficiently informed of the circumstances of the situation to argue its merits in detail but he had gathered this much, that the territories between Russia on the north and the British possessions on the south were in dispute, and knowing only so much he declared his sympathies to be decidedly with the British British triumph, he said, would mean extension over the Afghan territories of our language, religion, customs and laws Russian triumph would mean extension over them of the half-barbarous, cruel and despotic system of the czars. Viewing the matter only as to results he had no difficulty in determining what he thought best for the cause of intelligence, freedom and morality in the disputed countries He did not want to see the vicious rule of Russia extended another foot beyond its present limits This is but a brief of what Judge Williams expressed in much better terms. The kernel of the whole matter, as it is connected with American sympathies, has not been so truthfully and well put before.

There are only two regular savings banks in Chicago, and the deposits in such banks in the state of Illinois only reach a million dollars. This is partly due to the fact that western people on small incomes do not save as the same class in the east does, and partly to the large number of savings bank failures after the big Chicago fire in 1871. Depositors lost heavily through those failures, and people concluded they might as well spend their money as have some one else to spend it. There are no means of ascertaining the amount of deposits in savings banks in this state. The system of "addition, division and silence" is applied to such matters here. So long as no great losses are sustained through the failure of banks the system will doubtless be continued. There is safety in publicity, however, and banks which invite the confidence of the public cannot expect that the public will always be satisfied to "go it blind"

"TENDERNESS OF BLOOD"

The Boston Advertiser says that "no one can regard the repeated calls upon the militia of the various states to check rioting among striking laborers without regrets and misgivings for the future The sole cure for this evil is enlightenment."

This protest against the bayonet as a remedy for this evil is not a new idea with Boston people In 1798 John Adams, then president of the United States, said, in reply to an address of approbation and gratitude from the legislature of Vermont, that "while we truly consider government as the association of the honest, the pious and the peaceable to protect themselves from the wickedness of the dishonest, the impious and unruly, we should never forget that government at the time ought to protect the dishonest, the impious and unruly, not only from the fraud and fury of each other, but from the errors and weaknesses of the honest and pious" "While a tenderness of blood and a respect for human life is preserved among the people, however, there is not much danger even from tumults. This maxim preserved the Romans, who for four hundred years never shed the blood of a man in sedition. An example worthy the contemplation and imitation of all other republics." The truth of these words has lost none of its force since they were written

The governor of Montana, Carpenter by name, has taken upon himself, and, for the time being, executes an authority which does not belong to his office He has, by what is called an "executive order," quarantined cattle at the border line, preventing their entering the territory. The pretense of this order is that it is to protect the cattle of Montana from contagions, but its real purpose is to assist a few local "cattle kings" in monopolizing the Montana markets. The order has operated as a great hardship upon dealers who have lately bought up large droves in Oregon and Washington to drive east It is also a hardship on the people of Montana who now pay outrageous prices for beef

In a paper on "the tendencies of justice" in the North American, Judge William L Learning specifies several causes that tend to delay legal proceedings and that deprive injured parties of that speedy redress which it is the duty of the state to give Among the causes of delay in litigations, he particularly dwells upon those occasioned by the practice of referring cases for trial by the extensive right of appeal given by our present system, and by the evil practice of "writing long opinions." Long opinions are the cause of another evil. They are the fruitful source of much of the judge made law of the country, and thus furnish ground for protracted debate in the trial of causes

Speaking of the attractions of Douglas county, the Roseburg Review says "It lies between the Willamette and Rogue river valleys and is far in advance of either of the above mentioned localities in climate, natural resources and adaptability—with the single exception of growing wine grapes, and there is even room for a doubt in that particular Our seasons are just as early, if not a little more so, and in the matter of early fruits and vegetables the Umpqua valley is in the lead of all other localities in the state We have never had even a partial failure of crops on account of drouth, or from any other cause, and at the same time never have an excess of rain"

Why cannot Portland celebrate the Fourth of July? We are in a good fix to make a fine civic display and the presence at Vancouver barracks of an unusually large force (twelve companies in all) affords a convenient military auxiliary The bulk of this force could doubtless be engaged for the occasion which could be made very attractive in its interests. A celebration would be important in a patriotic sense, and, to descend to a baser consideration, it would be profitable to Portland. Will not somebody set the ball in motion?

During the last session of the New York legislature the attempt to regulate the price that the gas monopolists may charge was defeated by the shameless use of money A New York dispatch puts the money intrusted to the lobby for distribution at $100,000 Votes against any diminution of the price of gas rated at $1000 for county members and $2000 for city members, and $500 was offered to all—so it is claimed—who abstained from voting

The Pennsylvania legislators have been going home Thursday "because the attendance on Friday is so small, and their return has been delayed till Tuesday" because hardly anybody gets back on Monday, you know" In this way the free passes over the railroads which enable legislators to travel so much, answer the purpose for which they are given The legislators while absent from the capital surely cannot pass anti railroad laws

The surplus reserve of over $60,000,000 in New York and a similar "plethora" in other eastern cities is a result of stagnation in business, not the cause of it The trouble is that the money is not in use If business were in a condition of normal activity, there would be no complaint of a superabundance of money It will begin to disperse into channels of credit just as soon as the owners can find profitable use for it

There is so little demand for the famous Sea island cotton of South Carolina that few planters have sold their last year's crop It was formerly used to adulterate silk, but the demand has ceased without any apparent reason, except that by means of improved machinery ordinary cotton may be used for thread and other purposes as well as the long staple.

Senator Blackburn now threatens the president that "in the future he will stand in a position [illegible] [illegible] only [illegible] [illegible] his approval [illegible] always [illegible] him [illegible] this

Mr William H Vanderbilt states that he should want $10,000,000 a year salary for managing a railroad The Boston Record says it is surmised that his management of some of them has cost at least as much that, although he did not call it salary

HOW CAME IT HERE?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In confirmation of the theory that the strange looking reptile found in Medical lake is the Mexican axolotl I would refer your readers to the Scientific American of July 5 1884 page 9 in which there is a full description of a male and female of this species with an engraving of the same, which was sent to Fish Commissioner E G Black in New York a few years ago and were put into his aquarium where in due course of time, a young axolotl put in its appearance

I am informed by parties living at Medical Lake that those who have examined the specimen taken from the lake and compared it with said description and engraving of that little family have pronounced them identical, and that the new find is a veritable Mexican axolotl

The query is how did that tropical reptile find its way into our high altitude

[illegible] work last week notified the bricklayers in their employ that they would be obliged to reduce wages from $5 to $4 per day. This move did not meet with the approbation of the bricklayers union, and on Saturday evening the members thereof, about fifty in number, including nearly all the bricklayers in the city, struck. The employers claim that under present circumstances they cannot afford to pay more than $4 per day. They say that there are many men in the union who are not worth more, but by the union rules they are compelled to pay a slow man as much as a fast one. They are willing to pay a man $5 per day who is worth it, but where all are paid the same price a fast man working alongside a slow one will work no faster than the slow one, as he will receive no more for his work. Bricklaying has always commanded higher wages here than almost any other mechanical work, not because it requires more intelligence or longer apprenticeship, but because it cannot be carried on in the rainy season or cold weather. In every other business wages have been reduced and as contractors have to take jobs for less than they used to, they think their employes should be willing to stand a reduction. They say they will be willing to advance wages when times get better, but that they cannot afford to pay present rates now. The bricklayers, however, take another view of the matter, and probably have good reasons to offer for so doing. It is to be hoped that some amicable understanding may be arrived at, as strikes always result in loss to all interested.

GOOD CHANCE FOR VALLEY FARMERS.—The late rains and cool weather have been very beneficial to gardens, and garden truck of all kinds, and if the weather continues at all favorable Oregon will surprise herself in the line of big turnips, carrots, squashes, beets, etc., and the display of vegetables at the coming state fair will be a sight for newcomers to behold. With the favorable rates given by the railroads on the east and west side this city should be well supplied with vegetables of all kinds from the gardens up the valley. If farmers will send good articles to market they can be pretty certain of getting fair prices for them. It will be no use, however, for them to send [illegible] vegetables as they will not find purchasers here. Farmers who have ground adapted to gardening might make as much off an acre or two in truck as from five times as many acres in wheat. But it will take some experience to make a success of this line. It will not do to send in a hundred bushels of crook necked squash at once nor a million of cucumbers, for the market would be overstocked, but by raising a variety of good vegetables and marketing them judiciously money may be made. Many tons of cabbage are imported here yearly from California, and sometimes turnips. These should all be raised here, and peas, beans, cauliflower and many other things are in short supply here most of the time.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—Annie Fitch, a woman 50 years of age, was brutally assaulted and dangerously wounded in her room at the Oak lodging house, at a late hour Saturday night. She is addicted to intemperance and was probably under the influence of liquor at the time. She states that a man unknown to her came to her room and that she told him to go away and then she felt a stinging pain in the back of her head and she knew nothing more. She was found lying insensible on the floor bleeding copiously from a ghastly cut on the head, inflicted by a small axe used for splitting kindling. Her recovery is doubtful. The assailant fled and it is supposed has left the city. It is to be hoped that he may be caught and punished for his dastardly crime.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—At the close of Rev. Trumbull Lee's temperance lecture on Saturday night in the W. C. T. U. Hall, on Fifth street near Alder, Mrs Riggs, the president, gave a cordial invitation to all to hear a new speaker to-night, Mr Frank Allenbaugh of Iowa. He has been for many years successfully battling for temperance with such noted speakers as Colonel G. W. Bain, Colonel J. J. Hickman and John B. Finch. In prohibition and local option campaigns he is reported to have turned the tide in whole counties, while it is admitted that he was a whole host in himself in Iowa and Kansas. The lecture is on "Does Prohibition Prohibit?" and all should go and hear him.

ARCHBISHOP GROSS.—At 10:30 yesterday forenoon high mass was celebrated at the cathedral. The Most Reverend Archbishop Gross occupied the throne, Right Reverend A. J. Glorieux acting as celebrant and Reverends L. Verhaag and L. Metayer as deacons. Immediately after the gospel Most Reverend Archbishop Gross preached a most instructive and impressive sermon. During the afternoon the archbishop visited St. Vincent's hospital and afterward St. Mary's academy, preaching at both places. At the vesper service at the cathedral the Right Reverend A. J. Glorieux officiated and the archbishop preached on the continuation of the days of the gospel. The services were all largely attended.

ALL ABOUT A DOG.—Policeman George Ward shot and wounded a dog a day or two since, and the owner swore out a warrant for his arrest in Justice White's court and Ward will have a chance to learn something about trial by jury. He claims that as he was coming down Front street in a hurry the dog rushed at him and bit him on the shin, whereupon he drew his revolver and blazed away at the dog. The owner of the animal asserts that Ward poked the dog with his cane, and that when the dog seized the cane Ward shot him. It is sometimes pretty nearly almost always difficult to get at the rights of such matters.

FAILURE AT ASHLAND.—The firm of Landers & McConnell, doing business at Ashland, has failed and their stock of goods is in the hands of the sheriff. Their liabilities are placed at over $4000, while their nominal assets are rated at about $5000. Esberg, Bachman & Co. and Wilzinski Bros. & Co., of this city, are creditors and have placed attachments upon the bankrupt stock. As usual, there is a bill of sale and the courts will have to settle the matter. The failure was a surprise as the firm was supposed to be doing a good business.

CHINESE BACK FROM YAKIMA.—About 100 Chinamen arrived here last evening from Yakima, where they have been employed on the Northern Pacific railroad. The suspension of work on the Cascade branch of this road has sent these fellows back here in search of other employment. They were a sunburned lot, and as they zig-zagged along up Second street in Indian file, with their bags and boxes slung on poles, they recalled days of two or three years ago when such troops were an every-day sight on our streets.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ON MARQUAM'S HILL.—Quite a flourishing union Sunday school now meets on Marquam's hill weekly at 3 P. M., about forty young and old, attending. It was started by Mr. F. W. Conway, superintendent of the First Christian Sunday school and is now well maintained by the residents. It meets at the residence of Mr. John Messerve, Mr Crockett superintendent. A hall for Sunday school, preaching, lectures, etc., is needed in that growing locality.

RESERVOIR FOR HYDRAULIC MINING.—Captain Ankeny has returned from his mines in Jackson county. He has received plans from California for the building of an immense reservoir to catch the surplus water which has heretofore run to waste. This reservoir will be one of the largest on the northwest coast. It will enable the company of which Captain Ankeny is the head to run six months in the year, thus ensuring profitable returns.

DECORATION DAY SERMONS.—Sermons commemorative of Decoration Day, the nation's mourning time, were preached in the First Congregational and Taylor street M. E. churches yesterday. Rev. E. R. Marvin chose the morning hour for the delivery of his theme, and Mr Chandler spoke in the evening. Many G. A. R. men and their families were in attendance.

DECISIONS TO BE ANNOUNCED.—Judge Stearns will this morning, in department No. [illegible] of the [illegible] court, announce decisions in the following cases: White, Goldsmith & Co vs [illegible] Cooper; Rice vs Rice; McMahon vs McMahon; Emil Webber vs Hattie M Raleigh [illegible]; La Roque; W H Chaney vs. Winters et [illegible]; A [illegible] King vs [illegible] and wife.

MR. COMING AGAIN.—William M. Babbitt, business manager of the Frederick Warde company, leaves to-day for a trip on the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Warde will play his way back to New York, reaching there about August 1. The new season commences August 31 at Pittsburg, [illegible] it is possible Mr. Warde may appear again here next spring.

[illegible] THE MEDICAL LECTURES.—[illegible] P Fraser will lecture this evening in the [illegible] of the Y. M. C. A. on "Influence of Tobacco upon the System." This will be the last of the medical lectures that have been announced for this year under the auspices of the association.

BROKE HIS LEG.—An 8-year old son of Mr. Dan Moore of La Camas fell from a wagon loaded with lumber, on Saturday, the wheels passing over his leg below the knee, breaking both bones. Dr. A. S. Covert set the broken bones, and the boy is doing well.

[illegible] Kootenai, the boat built by Messrs. McCartney & Henderson for carrying freight between the Little Dalles and Farwell, B. C., the new town at the second crossing of the Columbia, is now making a couple of trips a week delivering to the contractors nearly 20 tons of freight each week. The total distance of the round trip is about 40 miles. The upper Columbia has now risen very considerably, and the water in the rapid river between the lakes and the dalles is rendered somewhat difficult for navigation. The company have decided to add steering gear to the Kootenai, and orders to this effect have been given to the Willamette Iron Works by whom the boiler and engines were laid down.

The construction of the Canadian Pacific proceeds apace, but the trails to the east and west end of the track are still almost impassable. The weather this past winter was exceptionally heavy, most of the mountain roads are entirely blockaded with snow. Indeed, in some cases the snow from the slides is 200 feet in depth. Incredible as this may seem to the dwellers in the mild climate of Oregon, it is nothing unusual among the wild Rockies, and Selkirk, the region of snow and precipitous heights. With such obstructions to overcome the work, as may readily be imagined, is an exceedingly laborious one, and it seems very doubtful that the last spike can be driven by the end of August, the time stipulated. The bridge at the lower crossing will be pushed on with all despatch, and it is quite likely that the work will be proceeded with from that point to the end of the track east and west. [illegible] promises to be quite a considerable town. It was almost entirely burnt out last week, but already, phenix like, it rises upon the ashes of its former "grandeur."

Like most "advance posts" on railroad works the principal trade of the place is whisky. There are about thirty saloons to fifty houses, and they all appear to be doing a good business. By the law of the dominion the sale of intoxicating liquors is forbidden within a radious of twenty miles of the line of construction, but in spite of this enactment the whisky is sold openly. Up to a week or two since all the saloon keepers did business without licenses. One man, wishing to conform with the law, came in armed with a license, but he lived to regret it, for his brethren of the opposite way of acting met together in solemn conclave, and forbade him carrying out his intentions. A word to the wise was sufficient. Since then, however, the authorities have issued licenses, apparently upon the principle that "what can't be cured must be endured."

THE EAST SIDE

ABSCONDING DEBTOR

H. E. Myers, of the St. James hotel and saloon corner of I and Water streets, was arrested Saturday on a warrant from Justice Coleman's court, sworn out by Dr. W. W. Royal, who had commenced suit against him to recover a bill of $140 for professional services and who filed an affidavit to the effect that he believed he was about to leave the state to avoid payment. Defendant was arrested on the Astoria boat, having engaged passage under an assumed name for himself and wife, who accompanied him. In default of $300 bonds he was committed to the county jail for appearance on the 29th inst., the return day of the summons.

A HORSE DIES SUDDENLY

Yesterday afternoon J. H. Carney hired a turnout from George Beck, and upon returning home to the corner of Sixth and I streets, the horse, which had become somewhat bloated, gave out and laid down. He was released from the vehicle, induced to rise, and led back to the stable, where he expired in a few minutes without a struggle, from some internal disorder, indicated by vomiting and bleeding at the nose. He had been driven to a hack for some time, and was considered one of the hardiest animals in the stable. He had lately, however, been affected with a disease akin to colic, but was not supposed to be of so serious nature as to cause death. He was a handsome bay, called Dan, and valued at $250.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY

Johnny McGonigle, the irrepressible got into the toils again yesterday. During one of his periodicals he intruded into Aunty Frush's boarding house, bareheaded and barefooted, and was promptly ordered to leave. Refusing to do so, the services of Fred Kindorf were called into requisition, who met with determined resistance but soon succeeded in ejecting his opponent, looking much the worse for the operation. He was about to return to the house when the marshal appeared and interposed and escorted him to the city boarding house.

Pat Kelly was also gathered in yesterday by Officer McMillen for being drunk and acting indecently on the street.

NOTES

Mrs. Nora Clarke returned to Oregon City yesterday after a brief visit to friends in East Portland.

Justice Simpson is convalescent, and was able to be out and enjoy the salubrious weather yesterday.

The boy Mankins who was stabbed by young Carmack the other day shows certain indications of his lungs being pierced, but not to such extent as to cause serious alarm.

A Chinaman who was assaulted by hoodlums on Fifth street yesterday blew a police whistle vociferously and continuously while pursuing his assailants, and refused to desist after the marshal appeared, except to explain the cause. The marshal assisted in the pursuit, but the fugitives escaped down the embankment and [illegible] the bottom.

BRIEF MENTION

Martha Washington Camp No. 1, Daughters of Liberty, give an excursion to the Cascades next Sunday.

Warde and his company chartered the little steam yacht New York and visited the falls at Oregon City yesterday.

Sam Sykes, the old pioneer and well known brewer, formerly of Portland, is about to start in the brewing business at Roseburg, Douglas county.

W. F. Palmer, secretary of the Colorado Press Association, reports that already over 130 have signified their intention of participating in the Oregon excursion in July.

The single scull race which was to have taken place yesterday for the honor of the championship of the steamship Columbia, failed to come off. It was easier not to row than it was to row.

The Y. M. C. A. orchestra, assisted by a male quartette will give a concert in the hall of the association Wednesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. This promises to be the best that the orchestra has ever given.

The Marine Engineers Association will give one of their unique electric light excursions next [illegible] Saturday evening. [illegible] [illegible] to establishing a [illegible] library [illegible]

Specimens of ore from the Cleveland and Hendricks ledge in Douglas county, owned by C. Ball, have been assayed in this city. They yielded 11 per cent lead and silver, with traces of arsenic. As the ledge goes deeper they expect the lead to drop out and will then have a good silver mine.

MISSOULA, MONTANA

Unlike most of the towns on the N. P. R. R., Missoula claims never to have experienced a genuine modern boom. The place has had a slow [illegible] growth, however, and while not yet much of a city, it is a substantial prosperous town of perhaps [illegible] inhabitants. The railroad company are now building a round house and machine shops here similar to those at Sprague, with the view of making this headquarters for their Rocky mountain division. The firm of Eddy, Hammond & Co., who long [illegible] extensive mercantile business here, contemplate making some extensive improvements during the present summer, including the erection of a sawmill with a capacity of 100,000 feet per day. The Bitter Root and French Town valleys, tributary to Missoula, are very productive, and it is thought there are some rich mines in the vicinity, which will sooner or later be developed, so that altogether Missoula has future prospects that are very encouraging.

PERSONAL

Mr. E[illegible] returned home on Saturday after three months absence in the east.

Judge J. W. Cottonberry of Cleveland, Ohio, is here on a visit to his wife's sister Mrs. Thomas [illegible] of East Portland.

W. H. Fletcher, chief clerk of the Northern Pacific [illegible] shops in [illegible] is in Portland on business for the company.

[illegible] Howe of the New [illegible] will [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] in the interests of the Warde [illegible] tion.

Hon. T. J. Beall of Douglas county was in the city last week. He proposes under the new law to have the railroad company build a side track at his home at Central Point.

SALMAGUNDI

[illegible] of King county are at large [illegible] with the city government of Seattle, is [illegible] and this is the cause. Mayor [illegible], on the evening of the Oriental fire, had the wounded sent to the Providence hospital. The county commissioners refused to pay the bill for the care of these parties on the ground that no commissioner had been consulted about taking them to that institution. The mayor went before the board and explained that it was an emergency which required prompt action, and for that reason there was not time in which to consult any commissioner. Nevertheless the bills were not paid by the board. Then came the city's turn. County Assessor Hughes having completed his work, presented the city council with a bill for that portion embracing the city's assessment, which is a part, of course, of the county assessment. This the council now refuses to pay on the ground that the city did not order the county assessment or any part of it.

In the Heppner hills this season the recherche thing in overalls is to have the pocket corners braded in lieu of the copper rivets that were en regal last season. They are worn either stuffed in the boots or outside.

An elite thing in watch-chains is a wide buckskin strap worn dangling from the pocket and ornamented with a stud horse poker chip. It also works for a ranch razor-strap.

An æsthetic rustic substitute for a button is a shingle nail or a piece of sharpened stick poked through a gallus hole. This style is very popular on some ranches, but it is a bad thing to fall down on.

The Coos Bay [illegible] has the following advice: "Poor immigrants had better give this place the go by just now, for we already have enough poor people and more laborers than there is a demand for. The average wages paid loggers this year are only about $40 per month, and millhands are working for less this year than they did last. But men who have money to invest can invest it here to advantage in many ways, and especially in good ranches, improved and unimproved, but it takes money to buy an improved place, and money and muscle to improve one."

The last issue of the Seattle Chronicle comes with the following wail: "We must stretch the limit of journalistic etiquette to the length of demanding that immediately, forthwith, absolutely and from henceforth forever THE OREGONIAN eschew the use of paper made from cotton wood tree fiber. In common with our contemporary we have ruined every pair of scissors the office possesses and this morning were forced to the unjournalistic procedure of chopping out copy with a hatchet."

The Journal of Eugene City says: "Walker Young recently sent about forty head of stall-fed cattle to Portland and sold them at 3½ cents a pound, which netted him only about 2¾ cents a pound here. This is the lowest price received here for stall fed cattle for four years." People in this city who have been paying anywhere from 10 to 25 cents a pound for beef at the markets will be pleased to know how profitable the butcher business is.

Mr. Robson of Louisville, Colorado, while working in the coal mine 180 feet from the surface, found a live frog imbedded in a solid rock. He took it to the surface, and at last accounts the creature still lived. If it were not so early in the season one might believe the above story to be the cap sheaf of its kind. It might have been improved by saying the frog was in good condition and Mr. Robson dined off its hind legs.

Some four years ago the boom of Saubert's North Umpqua mill broke and let a large number of logs go to the ocean. Recently a log floated in on the tide up the Siuslaw river to Saubert's new mill and on examination was found with the brand he used on the Umpqua, so it must be one of the long lost logs, which was cast upon the water and after many days returned.

The depredations of horse thieves in eastern Washington and western Idaho has aroused a strong sentiment among the settlers to exterminate the rascals. If the law cannot be made to suppress these high handed outrages and protect the property of settlers people need not be surprised to hear of Judge Lynch being called upon to hold a term of court in that vicinity.

The Spokane [illegible] says that no sooner had the announcement been made that gold had been found in a cellar in the city of Sprague than a company was formed for the purpose of sinking a shaft and working the ground for all there was in it. The organization was very short lived, as it disbanded Monday and the gold belt is left for future generations to work.

[illegible] A burglar recently entered the residence of editor Frank M. Gray of the Burlington Times and appropriated $3 in coin—the accumulation of a lifetime of toil.

THE STAGE

THE WARDE COMBINATION.—Mr. Frederick Warde and his admirable company leave this morning for a short trip up the valley, playing in Eugene this evening and in Salem on Tuesday and Wednesday. We cordially recommend this company to the good offices of our friends in these cities, promising them performances of unusual excellence by a company of ladies and gentlemen who are artistically the equal of any dramatic company that has ever visited this coast. Mr. Warde will return to Portland on Thursday and give us four more performances before his return to the east, appearing in four of his greatest popular impersonations, viz: "Richard III," "Damon," "Ingomar," and his masterpiece "Virginius." The impression created by Mr. Warde and his company has been of the most decided character, and we do not doubt that the New Market theater will be taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the admirers of this distinguished actor on his farewell appearances in this city.

THE CASINO.—The last night of "Olivette" was greeted by a large house, and once more the fact is established that comic opera succeeds best at the Casino. To-night we have the sparkling "Mascot," which has also brought good luck with it and always will. The piece will be better mounted and better sung than ever before in this city.

BEAT THE YAMHILLERS.—A special dispatch to THE OREGONIAN received last night states that the Dallas baseball club of this city won the game which was played at McMinnville yesterday between them and the North Yamhill club by a score of [illegible] to 11. The game was a most exciting one and was witnessed by a large crowd.

HOW CAME IT HERE?

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

In confirmation of the theory that the strange reptile found in Medical lake is the Mexican axolotl, I would refer your readers to Scientific American of July 5, 1884, page 9, in which there is a full description of a male and female of this species, with an engraving of the same, which were sent to Fish Commissioner E. G. Blackford, of New York, a few years ago and were put in an aquarium, where in due course of time, a young axolotl put in its appearance.

I am informed by parties living at Medical Lake that those who have examined the specimen taken from the lake and compared it with said description and engraving of that little family, have pronounced them identical, and that the new find is a genuine "Mexican axolotl."

Now the query is, how did that tropical reptile find its way to our high latitude? L.

To Builders!
To town builders from the west!!
To machine manufacturers from the east!!
Now is a chance for you to take a hand in building the best town on the Columbia river.
Where a future can be created by your skill, energy and nerve.
Where a town is already made on a solid foundation.
Where over a quarter of a million dollars has been expended in permanent improvements.
Where every advantage of location, land farming, water power, wood, iron, stone, soil exists at the beginning.
Where water power is improved; wharves, mills and factories have been built.
Where a railroad is in course of construction to open up one of the finest valleys on the Pacific coast.
Where one of the finest town-site locations in the territory, over 200 acres of adjoining lands, will be donated to manufacturers, and furnish you lumber for saw mills at prices far below ruling rates in the country, to labor-employing enterprises. We do not desire to speculate at your expense. Work for us if we secure your assistance. Come and see us, and we will give you a town lot, at your own prices if you are willing to take hold and help in building up the place. We want manufacturers, merchants, capital, energy and enterprise, and are prepared to offer extraordinary inducements.

Advice to Mothers.
Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25 cts. a bottle.

TO YOUNG MEN!—READ THIS.
The Voltaic Belt Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send their celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days, to men (young or old) afflicted with nervous debility, loss of vitality and manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, and many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed. Write them at once for illustrated pamphlet free.

BRICKLAYERS' STRIKE.—Owing to the general depression of business the contractors for brick work last week notified the bricklayers in their employ that they would be obliged to reduce wages from $6 to $5 per day. This move did not meet with the approbation of the bricklayers' union, and on Saturday evening the members thereof, about fifty in number, and including nearly all the bricklayers in the city, struck. The employers claim that under present circumstances they cannot afford to pay more than $5 per day. They say that there are many men in the union who are not worth more, but by the union rules they are compelled to pay a slow man as much as a fast one. They are willing to pay a man $6 per day who is worth it, but where all are paid the same price a fast man working alongside a slow one will work no faster than the slow one, as he will receive no more for his work. Bricklaying has always commanded higher wages here than almost any other mechanical work, not because it requires more intelligence or longer apprenticeship, but because it cannot be carried on in the rainy season or cold weather. In every other business wages have been reduced, and as contractors have to take jobs for less than they used to, they think their employes should be willing to stand a reduction. They say they will be willing to advance wages when times get better, but that they cannot afford to pay present rates now. The bricklayers, however, take another view of the matter, and probably have good reasons to offer for so doing. It is to be hoped that some amicable understanding may be arrived at, as strikes always result in loss to all interested.

GOOD CHANCE FOR VALLEY FARMERS.—The late rains and cool weather have been very beneficial to gardens, and garden truck of all kinds, and if the weather continues at all favorable Oregon will surprise herself in the line of big turnips, carrots, squashes, beets, etc., and the display of vegetables at the coming state fair will be a sight for newcomers to behold. With the favorable rates given by the railroads on the east and west side, this city should be well supplied with vegetables of all kinds from the gardens up the valley. If farmers will send good articles to market they can be pretty certain of getting fair prices for them. It will be no use, however, for them to send in poor vegetables, as they will not find purchasers here. Farmers who have ground adapted to gardening might make as much off an acre or two in truck as from five times as many acres in wheat. But it will take some experience to make a success of this line. It will not do to send in a hundred bushels of crook-necked squash at once nor a million of cucumbers, for the market would be overstocked, but by raising a variety of good vegetables and marketing them judiciously money may be made. Many tons of cabbage are imported here yearly from California, and sometimes turnips. These should all be raised here, and peas, beans, cauliflower and many other things are in short supply here most of the time.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—Annie Fitch, a woman 50 years of age, was brutally assaulted and dangerously wounded in her room at the Oak lodging house, at a late hour Saturday night. She is addicted to intemperance and was probably under the influence of liquor at the time. She states that a man unknown to her came to her room and that she told him to go away and then she felt a stinging pain in the back of her head and she knew nothing more. She was found lying insensible on the floor bleeding copiously from a ghastly cut on the head, inflicted by a small axe used for splitting kindling. Her recovery is doubtful. The assailant fled and it is supposed has left the city. It is to be hoped that he may be caught and punished for his dastardly crime.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—At the close of Rev. Trumbull Lee's temperance lecture on Saturday night in the W. C. T. U. Hall, on Fifth street near Alder, Mrs. Riggs, the president, gave a cordial invitation to all to hear a new speaker to-night, Mr. Frank Allenbaugh of Iowa. He has been for many years successfully battling for temperance with such noted speakers as Colonel G. W. Bain, Colonel J. J. Hickman and John B. Finch. In prohibition and local option campaigns he is reported to have turned the tide in whole counties, while it is admitted that he was a whole host in himself in Iowa and Kansas. The lecture is on "Does Prohibition Prohibit?" and all should go and hear him.

ARCHBISHOP GROSS.—At 10:30 yesterday forenoon high mass was celebrated at the cathedral. The Most Reverend Archbishop Gross occupied the throne, Right Reverend A. J. Glorieux acting as celebrant and Reverends L. Verhaag and L. Metayer as deacons. Immediately after the gospel Most Reverend Archbishop Gross preached a most instructive and impressive sermon. During the afternoon the archbishop visited St. Vincent's hospital and afterward St. Mary's academy, preaching at both places. At the vesper service at the cathedral the Right Reverend A. J. Glorieux officiated and the archbishop preached on the continuation of the days of the gospel. The services were all largely attended.

ALL ABOUT A DOG.—Policeman George Ward shot and wounded a dog a day or two since, and the owner swore out a warrant for his arrest in Justice White's court and Ward will have a chance to learn something about trial by jury. He claims that as he was coming down Front street in a hurry the dog rushed at him and bit him on the shin, whereupon he drew his revolver and blazed away at the dog. The owner of the animal asserts that Ward poked the dog with his cane, and that when the dog seized the cane Ward shot him. It is sometimes pretty nearly almost always difficult to get at the rights of such matters.

FAILURE AT ASHLAND.—The firm of Landers & McConnell, doing business at Ashland, has failed and their stock of goods is in the hands of the sheriff. Their liabilities are placed at over $4000, while their nominal assets are rated at about $5000. Esberg, Bachman & Co. and Wilzinkski Bros. & Co., of this city, are creditors and have placed attachments upon the bankrupt stock. As usual, there is a bill of sale and the courts will have to settle the matter. The failure was a surprise as the firm was supposed to be doing a good business.

CHINESE BACK FROM YAKIMA.—About 100 Chinamen arrived here last evening from Yakima, where they have been employed on the Northern Pacific railroad. The suspension of work on the Cascade branch of this road has sent these fellows back here in search of other employment. They were a sunburned lot, and as they zig-zagged along up Second street in Indian file, with their bags and boxes slung on poles, they recalled days of two or three years ago when such troops were an every-day sight on our streets.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ON MARQUAM'S HILL.—Quite a flourishing union Sunday school now meets on Marquam's hill weekly at 4 P. M., about forty, young and old, attending. It was started by Mr. J. W. Connaway, superintendent of the First Christian Sunday school and is now well maintained by the residents. It meets at the residence of Mr. John Messerve, Mr. Crockett, superintendent. A hall for Sunday school, preaching, lectures, etc., is needed in that growing locality.

RESERVOIR FOR HYDRAULIC MINING.—Captain Ankeny has returned from his mines in Jackson county. He has received plans from California for the building of an immense reservoir, to catch the surplus water which has heretofore run to waste. This reservoir will be one of the largest on the northwest coast. It will enable the company of which Captain Ankeny is the head to run six months in the year, thus ensuring profitable returns.

DECORATION DAY SERMONS.—Sermons commemorative of Decoration Day, the nation's mourning time, were preached in the First Congregational and Taylor street M. E. churches yesterday. Rev. F. R. Marvin, chose the morning hour for the delivery of his theme, and Mr. Chandler spoke in the evening. Many G. A. R. men and their families were in attendance.

DECISIONS TO BE ANNOUNCED.—Judge Stearns will this morning, in department No. 2 of the state circuit court, announce decisions in the following cases: White, Goldsmith & Co. vs. Millie Cooper; Rice vs. Rice; McMahon vs. McMahon; Emil Webber vs. Hattie M. Raleigh and E. La Roque; W. H. Chaney vs. Winters et al; A. N. King vs. Q. Voss and wife.

MAY COME AGAIN.—William M. Babbitt, business manager of the Frederick Warde company, leaves to-day for points on the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Warde will play his way back to New York, reaching there about August 1. The new season commences August 31 at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and it is possible Mr. Warde may appear again here next spring.

LAST OF THE MEDICAL LECTURES.—Dr. E. P. Fraser will lecture this evening in the chapel of the Y. M. C. A. on "Influence of Tobacco upon the System." This will be the last of the medical lectures that have been announced for this year under the auspices of the association.

BROKE HIS LEG.—An 8-year old son of Mr. Dan Moore of La Camas fell from a wagon loaded with lumber, on Saturday, the wheels passing over his leg below the knee, breaking both bones. Dr. A. B. Covert set the broken bones, and the boy is doing well.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC COUNTRY.

How the Work on the Canadian Pacific is Progressing—The Liquor Trade—Launching the New Steamer.

The steamer Kootenai, the boat built by Messrs. McCartney & Henderson for carrying freight between the Little Dalles and Farwell, B. C., the new town at the second crossing of the Columbia, is now making a couple of trips a week, delivering to the contractors nearly 200 tons of freight each week. The total distance of the round trip is about 411 miles. The upper Columbia has now risen very considerably, and the water in the rapid river between the lakes and the dalles is rendered somewhat difficult of navigation. The company have decided to add steering gear to the Kootenai, and orders to this effect have been given to the Willamette Iron Works, by whom the boiler and engines were laid down.

The construction of the Canadian Pacific proceeds apace, but the roads to the east and west end of the track are still almost impassable. The weather this past winter was exceptionally heavy; most of the mountain roads are entirely blockaded with snow. Indeed, in some cases the snow from the slides is 200 feet in depth. Incredible as this may seem to the dwellers in the mild climate of Oregon, it is nothing unusual among the wild Rockies, and Selkirk, the region of snow and precipitous heights. With such obstructions to overcome the work, as may readily be imagined, is an exceedingly laborious one, and it seems very doubtful that the last spike can be driven by the end of August, the time stipulated. The bridge at the lower crossing will be pushed on with all despatch, and it is quite likely that the work will be proceeded with from that point to the end of the track east and west. Farwell promises to be quite a considerable town. It was almost entirely burnt out last week, but already, Phœnix like, it rises upon the ashes of its former "grandeur."

Like most "advance posts" on railroad works, the principal trade of the place is whisky. There are about thirty saloons to fifty houses, and they all appear to be doing a good business. By the law of the dominion the sale of intoxicating liquors is forbidden within a radious of twenty miles of the line of construction, but in spite of this enactment the whisky is sold openly. Up to a week or two since, all the saloon keepers did business without licenses. One man, wishing to conform with the law, came in armed with a license, but he lived to regret it, for his brethren of the opposite way of acting met together in solemn conclave, and forbade him carrying out his intentions. A word to the wise was sufficient. Since then, however, the authorities have issued licenses, apparently upon the principle that "what can't be cured must be endured."

THE EAST SIDE.

ABSCONDING DEBTOR.

H. E. Myers, of the St. James hotel and saloon, corner of I and Water streets, was arrested Saturday on a warrant from Justice Coleman's court, sworn out by Dr. W. W. Royal, who had commenced suit against him to recover a bill of $140 for professional services and who filed an affidavit to the effect that he believed he was about to leave the state to avoid payment. Defendant was arrested on the Astoria boat, having engaged passage under an assumed name for himself and wife, who accompanied him. In default of $300 bonds he was committed to the county jail for appearance on the 29th inst., the return day of the summons.

A HORSE DIES SUDDENLY.

Yesterday afternoon J. H. Carney hired a turnout from George Beck, and upon returning home to the corner of Sixth and I streets, the horse, which had become somewhat bloated, gave out and laid down. He was released from the vehicle, induced to rise, and led back to the stable, where he expired in a few minutes without a struggle, from some internal disorder, indicated by vomiting and bleeding at the nose. He had been driven to a hack for some time, and was considered one of the hardiest animals in the stable. He had lately, however, been affected with a disease akin to colic, but was not supposed to be of so serious nature as to cause death. He was a handsome bay, called Dan, and valued at $250.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Johnny McGonigle, the irrepressible, got into the toils again yesterday. During one of his periodicals he intruded into Aunty Frush's boarding house, bareheaded and barefooted, and was promptly ordered to leave. Refusing to do so, the services of Fred Kindorf were called into requisition, who met with determined resistance but soon succeeded in ejecting his opponent looking much the worse for the operation. He was about to return to the house when the marshal appeared and interposed and escorted him to the city boarding-house.

Pat Kelly was also gathered in yesterday by Officer McMillen for being drunk and acting indecently on the street.

NOTES.

Mrs. Nora Clarke returned to Oregon City yesterday after a brief visit to friends in East Portland.

The boy Mankins, who was stabbed by young Carmack the other day, shows certain indications of his lungs being pierced, but not to such extent as to cause serious alarm.

A Chinaman who was assaulted by hoodlums on Fifth street yesterday blew a police-whistle vociferously and continuously while pursuing his assailants, and refused to desist after the marshal appeared, except to explain the cause. The marshal assisted in the pursuit, but the fugitives escaped down the embankment and along the bottom.

BRIEF MENTION.

Martha Washington Camp No. 1, Daughters of Liberty, give an excursion to the Cascades next Sunday.

Warde and his company chartered the little steam yacht New York and visited the falls at Oregon City yesterday.

Sam Sykes, the old pioneer and well-known brewer, formerly of Portland, is about to start in the brewing business at Roseburg, Douglas county.

W. E. Pabor, secretary of the Colorado Press Association, reports that already over 100 have signified their intention of participating in the Oregon excursion in July.

The single scull race which was to have taken place yesterday for the honor of the championship of the steamship Columbia, failed to come off. It was easier not to row than it was to row.

The Y. M. C. A. orchestra, assisted by a male quartette, will give a concert in the hall of the association Wednesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. This promises to be the best that the orchestra has ever given.

The Marine Engineers' Association will give one of their unique electric light excursions to Vancouver Saturday evening, June 6. The proceeds are to be devoted to establishing a free library to apprentices of all trades.

Specimens of ore from the Cleveland and Hendricks ledge in Douglas county, owned by C. Ball, have been assayed in this city. They yielded 11 per cent. lead and silver, with trace of arsenic. As the ledge goes deeper they expect the lead to drop out and will then have a good silver mine.

MISSOULA, MONTANA.

Unlike most of the towns on the N. P. R. R., Missoula claims never to have experienced a genuine modern boom. The place has had a slow natural growth, however, and while not yet much of a city, it is a substantial, prosperous town of perhaps a thousand inhabitants. The railroad company are now building a round house and machine shops here, similar to those at Sprague, with the view of making this headquarters for their Rocky mountain division. The firm of Eddy, Hammond & Co., who do an extensive mercantile business here, contemplate making some extensive improvements during the present summer, including the erection of a sawmill with a capacity of 100,000 feet per day. The Bitter Root and French Town valleys, tributary to Missoula are very productive, and it is thought there are some rich mines in the vicinity, which will sooner or later be developed, so that altogether, Missoula has future prospects that are very encouraging.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Edward Failing returned home on Saturday, after three months absence in the east.

Judge J. W. Collinberry of Cleveland, Ohio, is here on a visit to his wife's sister, Mrs. Thomas Fitch, of East Portland.

W. H. Fletcher, chief clerk of the Northern Pacific car shops in Tacoma, is in Portland on business for the company.

Manager Howe of the New Market theater leaves this morning for Walla Walla and Pendleton, in the interests of the Warde combination.

Hon. T. J. Beall of Douglas county was in the city last week. He proposes under the new law to have the railroad company build a side track at his home at Central Point.

SALMAGUNDI.

The authorities of King county are at loggerheads with the city government of Seattle, its county seat, and this is the cause: Mayor Leary, on the evening of the Oriental fire, had the wounded sent to the Providence hospital. The county commissioners refused to pay the bill for the care of these parties on the ground that no commissioner had been consulted about taking them to that institution. The mayor went before the board and explained that it was an emergency which required prompt action, and for that reason there was not time in which to consult any commissioner. Nevertheless the bills were not paid by the board. Then came the city's turn. County Assessor Hughes, having completed his work, presented the city council with a bill for that portion embracing the city's assessment, which is a part, of course, of the county assessment. This the council now refuses to pay, on the ground that the city did not order the county assessment or any part of it.

From a column of "Fashion Notes" in the Heppner Gazette are culled the following:

In the Heppner hills this season the recherche thing in overalls is to have the pocket corners braided in lieu of the copper rivets that were en regal last season. They are worn either stuffed in the boots or outside.

An elite thing in watch-chains is a wide buckskin strap worn dangling from the pocket and ornamented with a stud-horse poker chip. It also works for a ranch razor-strap.

An esthetic rustic substitute for a button is a shingle-nail or a piece of sharpened stick poked through a gallus hole. This style is very popular on some ranches, but it is a bad thing to fall down on.

The Coos Bay Mail has the following advice: "Poor immigrants had better give this place the go-by just now, for we already have enough poor people and more laborers than there is a demand for. The average wages paid loggers this year are only about $40 per month, and millhands are working for less this year than they did last. But men who have money to invest can invest it here to advantage in many ways, and especially in good ranches, improved and unimproved; but it takes money to buy an improved place, and money and muscle to improve one."

The last issue of the Seattle Chronicle comes with the following wail: "We must stretch the limit of journalistic etiquette to the length of demanding that immediately, forthwith, absolutely and from henceforth forever THE OREGONIAN eschew the use of paper made from cottonwood tree fiber. In communion with our cotemporary we have ruined every pair of scissors the office possesses and this morning were forced to the unjournalistic procedure of chopping out copy with a hatchet."

The Journal of Eugene City says: "Walker Young recently sent about forty head of stall-fed cattle to Portland and sold them at 3½ cents a pound, which netted him only about 2¾ cents a pound here. This is the lowest price received here for stall-fed cattle for four years." People in this city who have been paying anywhere from 10 to 25 cents a pound for beef at the markets will be pleased to know how profitable the butcher business is.

Mr. Robson of Louisville, Colorado, while working in the coal mine 180 feet from the surface, found a live frog imbedded in a solid rock. He took it to the surface, and at last accounts the creature still lived. If it were not so early in the season one might believe the above story to be the cap sheaf of its kind. It might have been improved by saying the frog was in good condition and Mr. Robson dined off its hind legs.

Some four years ago the boom of Saubert's North Umpqua mill broke and let a large number of logs go to the ocean. Recently a log floated in on the tide up the Siuslaw river to Saubert's new mill, and on examination was found with the brand he used on the Umpqua, so it must be one of the long lost logs, which was cast upon the water and after many days returned.

The depredations of horse thieves in eastern Washington and western Idaho has aroused a strong sentiment among the settlers to exterminate the rascals. If the law cannot be made to suppress these high-handed outrages and protect the property of settlers people need not be surprised to hear of Judge Lynch being called upon to hold a term of court in that vicinity.

The Spokane Review says that no sooner had the announcement been made that gold had been found in a cellar in the city of Sprague than a company was formed for the purpose of sinking a shaft and working the ground for all there was in it. The organization was very short lived, as it disbanded Monday and the gold belt is left for future generations to work.

East Oregonian: A burglar recently entered the residence of editor Frank M. Gray of the Harrington Times and appropriated $3 15 in coin—the accumulation of a lifetime of toil.

THE STAGE.

THE WARDE COMBINATION.—Mr. Frederick Warde and his admirable company leave this morning for a short trip up the valley, playing in Eugene this evening and in Salem on Tuesday and Wednesday. We cordially recommend this company to the good offices of our friends in those cities, promising them performances of unusual excellence by a company of ladies and gentlemen who are artistically the equal of any dramatic company that has ever visited this coast. Mr. Warde will return to Portland on Thursday and give us four more performances before his return to the east, appearing in four of his most popular impersonations, viz: "Richard III.," "Damon," "Ingomar," and his masterpiece, "Virginius." The impression created by Mr. Warde and his company has been of the most decided character, and we do not doubt but the New Market theater will be taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the admirers of this distinguished actor on his farewell appearances in this city.

THE CASINO—The last night of "Olivette" was greeted by a large house, and once more the fact is established that comic opera succeeds best at the Casino. To-night we have the sparkling "Mascot," which has also brought good luck with it and always will. The piece will be better mounted and better sung than ever before in this city.

BEAT THE YAMHILLERS.—A special dispatch to THE OREGONIAN received last night states that the Dollet baseball club of this city won the game which was played at McMinnville yesterday between them and the North Yamhill club by a score of 13 to 11. The game was a close and exciting one and was witnessed by a large crowd.

A PICNIC POEM.

N. W. DKE.

I.

The perfumed breeze blows softly o'er the hills,
The hum of bees in monotone is heard,
Commingling with the lull of distant rills,
While from the deep glen trills a joyous bird.

II.

The children play at hide and seek among the leaves,
And over all is spread the blue and cloudless dome.
Oh, hang the luck! Unless my ear deceives,
I hear a shrill voice cry: "The lunch was left at home!"

Having bought the entire interest of my partner in the late firm of KOHN & STEINBACH, I am now prepared to inaugurate a great dissolution sale, and in order to arrange and mark down all goods to actual New York cost, I will close my place of business on Tuesday, May 19, and reopen to the public in general on Wednesday, May 20, with the finest and best selected stock of Clothing ever brought to this city, at prices from 25 to 35 per cent less than ever before known in the history of Oregon.
While you are perusing this, we will sling the pen with red ink right and left, marking all goods down to bed-rock prices.
All goods will be marked in plain figures, with red ink, and the price asked will be the only one taken.
Call early and secure your bargains.

SATURDAY, May

Warmer weather rules with all appearance of being settled. The produce markets are in about the usual business, seasonable lines finding a fair trade. General merchandise values are without quotable change. The last steamer brought several large lots of coffee, dealers buying in anticipation of better values later on. Rice is in good demand and very firm. Sugars are tending up. New York mail dates report raws in good demand both for spot and future supplies, refiners showing more disposition to replenish their stocks. Refiners had experienced a better outlet for their product, which in view of decreasing stocks of raw material and the strong advices received from almost every sugar producing country seems to have encouraged them to stock up more freely, although being in receipt of large direct importations. The demand had improved for refined and prices were slightly advanced. Sugar values on the Pacific coast are now so low that a marked advance soon seems quite certain. The request is steadily improving, and with lessened stocks refiners will doubtless combine for more money. The last steamer brought a large quantity ordered in anticipation of a rise. Canned goods are attracting more attention. The local cannery has been busy on early sorts and will shortly be at work on cherries and later fruits. Striking fishermen and canners have come to terms and the lower river is alive with boats. What compromise was effected is not given out, but it is presumed the fishermen gave in to canners, as the last expressed not the least anxiety to can. The run is described as good, and a very fair amount can yet be put up before the season closes.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours, 816 ctls wheat, 510 bbls flour, 1,338 ctls oats, 102 ctls bran, 167 ctls millstuff, 100 sks potatoes, 1570 lbs wool, 400 lbs hides, 96 cs eggs, 156 bxs fruit, 12 pkgs butter, 160,000 lbs hops. Also 1 46 ctls wheat, 261 ctls oats, 80 ctls barley, 5600 lbs wool, 247 sks flaxseed from the eastern section.

WHEAT—Advices are of the usual Saturday character and the home market seems without life. Valley is quoted $1 37½ and Walla Walla $1 30, although desirable parcels of valley do better.

BARLEY—Market weak and good to choice changed hands to-day at $18@19, the higher price paid for brewing. The demand is light.

OATS—Sales to shipper of three cars at 40c and 5000 bushels, next week's delivery, at 40c. Home buyers do not go beyond 37½c for best feed, while 35@36c is quoted for good. The shipping market is easier, Oregon having sold at $1 27. Other than for shipping the demand here is small and market weak.

FRUITS, ETC.—Local kinds in fair dealing to-day at old prices. Strawberries sold at 8c and were scarce, but are expected to be more plentiful with continued clear weather. Black cherries are in grocery stores.

PROVISIONS—Meats weak under heavy stocks and slack request. We quote asking rates in jobbing lots: City cured hams, 11@12c; bacon, 9½@10c; shoulders, 6@7c; country cured generally ½@1c lower; eastern hams, 13@15c; bacon, 9½@10½c. Lard without change.

CHICKENS—Stocks light to-day, but the request is small and old sold at $4 25@4 50 for best.

EGGS—The market is as before reported. Quote 12@12½c.

WOOL—Receipts fair, but largely for shipment. Quote eastern Oregon 12@16½c. Latest New York mail dates report: There has been no material change in the situation as regards values, and the only noteworthy feature developed during the past few days has been the steady increase in receipts of new Texas and California wools at leading eastern markets. New clip Ohio will shortly be available, and at other growing sections preparations are in progress for opening the new season. The only disturbing element is the unwarranted anxiety of buyers to outdo each other in the matter of securing supplies at primary sources. The spot stock of nearly all grades is sufficient to meet existing requirements of consumers and the output of manufacturers is not being absorbed rapidly enough to prevent accumulation, but the warnings of the conservative branch of the trade seem to be unheeded and apparently ignored. Combing and delaine fleeces are about the only descriptions in limited supply, and the early receipts of these will probably find ready sale, unless holders advance their views beyond the limits of consumers, but without a decided improvement in the consumption of manufactured goods there is little prospect of sustaining prices above the present basis. Foreign wool, especially carpet grades, are readily absorbed on arrival, having been sold previously. Sales include 10,000 lbs eastern Oregon at [illegible]

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 23.—There is no change in governments, which have been quiet. Stocks have been dull but strong all day. Prices at the opening were generally ⅛ to ¼ higher than they closed yesterday, from which there was a further advance of small fractions, followed by a slight reaction, in which early gains were lost, and then a very quiet market with a strong undertone, which developed no material change until after 1 o'clock. Then came a temporary upward turn resulting in the highest prices of the day being reached shortly after 2 o'clock. In the last hour there was a moderate reaction and closing prices are generally ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. below the highest figures, but ⅛ to ⅜ above final quotations last evening. The only stock showing any activity was Union Pacific, dealings in which amounted, however, to only 24,000. In no other case did transactions equal 14,000 shares. Among the active stocks those which developed the greatest strength were Western Union, Union Pacific and Pacific Mail, the last of which closed at the highest quotations reached. Grangers were only steady and Vanderbilts firm.

A commercial dispatch received from Boston this afternoon and circulated here says that the statement that the Union Pacific had to borrow $800,000 to pay its May interest is without the slightest foundation in fact. Correspondence between Gould and officers of trunk lines was made public during the day and disclosed the fact that most companies were willing to restore rates, providing they can be satisfied they will be maintained when restored, and that the other minor points shall be conceded. The final answer from the New York Central was, however, not received before the closing of the stock exchange.

Comparing prices this evening with last Saturday the changes are generally for fractional amounts, but Lackawana is up ⅛, Pacific Mail, Union Pacific and Central of New Jersey each 1¼, and Western Union 1⅛. The total sales this week have been 1,038,800 shares, a decrease of 375,000 shares from last week.

Bean; street commissioner, H. O. Geiger; harbor master, A. Walters; assessor, B. Macready; collector, H. O. Geiger; committing magistrates, W. H. Harris, A. Campbell and A. E. Lawrence.

Harrington Times: Last year Lincoln county averaged twenty-five bushels of grain to the acre, and two-thirds of this crop was grown on sod. The present heavy rains will insure a better crop than was had last year, and more of the crop goes in ground that has been worked. Prominent and posted farmers tell us that it is safe to put the average this year at thirty five bushels to the acre.

OREGON

A lawyer named Butcher has hung out his shingle at Centerville.

The Gilliam county jail at Alkali is completed and has one occupant.

Blackleg has made its appearance in Langell valley, southern Oregon.

Utah cattle buyers purchased 2000 head in Baker county last week.

Heppner has driven out a large number of "objectionable characters."

Jos. Luckman of Lena, Morrow county, lost 400 head of sheep during the late rains.

The Grant county News says there are from 20,000 to 30,000 mutton sheep in that county.

The taxes collected by Wasco county, and to which Gilliam is entitled, amounts to over $4000.

J. D. Shearer and W. L. Finney of Steamboat, Jackson county, found a nugget of gold worth over $50 not long since.

J. O. Moorehouse, of Umatilla county, has sold his trotting horse "Cleveland" to a gentleman who took him to San Francisco.

An expert from Portland, named Haskell, has been examining the quartz ledges in the vicinity of Gold Hill, and seems well pleased with them.

There is a general feeling in Douglas county against the governor calling an extra session of the legislature on account of hard times and the expense.

Grant's Pass is anxious to be the county seat of Josephine county, and the citizens of that place have subscribed $2000 to build a court house, provided they obtain the coveted distinction.

A skeleton of a man was found hanging by a rope round the neck to the cross beam of Bob Smith's barn near Yoncalla, Douglas county. The barn was one that had not been used for several months, and it is thought that some unfortunate tramp here ended a miserable existence.

Astorian: Samuel Embree, near Ilwaco, caught the other day in a steel trap set for a bear, a curious animal having head and tail resembling those of a fox, a body shaped like a cougar and feet something like a bear, only not so large. He is a terror to the sheep tribe and doesn't refuse veal whenever it is on the bill of fare.

The residence of Charles Livingston, of Sucker creek, Josephine county, was burned to the ground a few days ago, together with all its contents. Mrs. Livingston had left her only child in the house to visit one of her neighbors, and when she returned a short time afterward the building was in ruins and her little one was in them.

Baker City Democrat: The Oregon Short Line is doing a good business in cattle shipping this spring. About seventy cars of cattle were loaded at Ontario Monday and Tuesday of last week bound for eastern markets. The fast live freight trains move at the rate of twenty five miles or more per hour, which makes that line a popular shipping road.

Pendleton Tribune: A sod ground pulverizer has been patented by Mr. Abijah F. Gordon, of Helix, Oregon. It is made with a frame having a shaft carrying two cylinders with tampered and scalloped digging flanges, so the sod will be cut and torn in pieces without being turned or raised from their places, the construction being such that the cylinder bearings can be readily oiled and dust and soil will be excluded.

ACCIDENTS.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED AND INJURED

NEW YORK, May 23.—To-night a tank of boiling lard exploded in the rear of Karocher & Foyle's packing house, Brooklyn, totally destroying the building. William H. Wernst, driver, was instantly killed. John Kramer, aged 7, had a leg fractured, and received a severe scalp wound. Two laborers were perhaps fatally injured. It is believed some children playing in front of the building are buried under the walls, but it is not ascertained positively yet. The property loss is $1[illegible]000.

IDAHO

CHIEF JOSEPH'S BAND TO RETURN SOON

LEWISTON, May 23.—[Special.]—Indian agent Monteith, of Lapwai, received a dispatch yesterday, stating that Special Agent Faulkner soon leaves Arkansas City with Chief Joseph's band of hostile Nez Perces destined for Lapwai agency. Monteith leaves Tuesday for Walla Walla, to meet and return these Indians.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION

New York Tribune: There is certainly a Providential method in the affairs of men. The new and improved Bible comes to hand just as the democracy assumes power.

New York Sun: The evident disposition of the administration to consult the wishes of the democrats in regard to the bestowal of the federal offices must cause the mugwumps some heart sore.

Philadelphia Press: Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, basely threatens to resign in case his son is given an office. If President Cleveland dodges this challenge he is not the man we take him to be.

New York World: The credentials of Mr. S. Corning Judd, Chicago's new postmaster, are now quite complete by the gratifying discovery that he is a direct descendant of the Rev. Johnathan Judd, who was the first minister in Southampton, Mass., four centuries ago. This makes Judd's record perfect. If there were two postoffices in Chicago he could have 'em both.

DR. C. McLANE'S
Celebrated Liver Pills
In offering to the public Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, as a remedy for Liver and Bilious Complaints, we presume no apology will be needed. The great prevalence of Liver Complaint and Bilious Diseases of all kinds throughout the United States, and particularly in the West and South, where, in the majority of cases, the patient is not within the reach of a regular physician, requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be safe and effectual. That such is the character of Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, there can be no doubt. The great success which has invariably attended their use, will, we think, be sufficient to convince the most incredulous. It has been our sincere wish that these Pills should be fairly tested, and stand or fall by the effects produced. That they have been so tested and that the result has been in every respect favorable, we call tens of thousands to witness who have experienced their beneficial effects.
DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS
are not held forth or recommended, (like most of the popular medicines of the day), as universal cure alls, but simply as a specific for Liver Complaints and those symptoms connected with a deranged state of that organ.
THE ONLY GENUINE
McLANE'S PILLS,
Are the Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills,
PREPARED BY
FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa.

In order to enrich the blood, and thus impart fresh vigor to an enfeebled system, stimulate flagging digestion with the national invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which by infusing energy into the operations of the stomach, promotes, nay, insures thorough digestion and assimilation, and consequent nutrition. A gain in appetite, vigor and flesh, is invariably found to follow a course of this deservedly popular tonic, which is moreover, a reliable preventive of malarial fevers. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

All Sorts of hurts and many sorts of ails of man and beast need a cooling lotion. Mustang Liniment.
